

Dr Eko Yi Liao

Associate Professor
Department of Management
The Hang Seng University of Hong Kong

Biography

Dr Eko Yi Liao is currently an Associate Professor in the Department of Management, School of Business. She holds a PhD degree in Management from The University of Hong Kong. She has been teaching management related subjects including Business Strategy and Policy, Research Methods and Workplace Communication in both undergraduate and postgraduate levels. Dr Liao has been invited to teach in MBA and PhD courses by overseas universities such as The Australian National University. Eko's research interests include negotiation styles and strategies, organisational leadership, and employee attitudes and behaviours. She has published in prestigious journals such as Journal of Organizational Behavior, Asia Pacific Journal of Management, and Organizational Psychology Review.