

Dr Joyce Lok-hin Lee

Lecturer
Department of English
The Hang Seng University of Hong Kong

Biography

Dr Joyce Lee graduated from The Chinese University of Hong Kong with a BA in Translation. She went on to obtain an MSc in Comparative and General Literature from the University of Edinburgh and an MA in Japanese Studies for the Professions from The Hong Kong Polytechnic University. Her doctoral dissertation investigated the perceptions of teachers and students regarding academic integrity in the English for Academic Purposes context. To cater for the diverse needs of students ranging from university freshmen to administrative staff, she is constantly designing communicative and differentiated tasks to make every lesson count.
